

THE WEEKLY GRAPHIC

T. E. SUBLETTE, Proprietor.

KIRKSVILLE, MISSOURI.

FRIDAY, NOV. 30, 1894.

The country is anxiously awaiting the President's message.

Dan Lamont is writing the President's message, and we may expect something refreshing when Congress assembles.

Mrs. Mary Yellen Lease has declared her intention to retire from politics. Her husband will have the unbounded sympathy of the entire country.

It is said that Mr. Carlisle, and not Mr. Cleveland, is formulating a new financial policy. If the statement be true the country may expect something of the "kindergarten" order in finances.

Great Britain is the greatest enemy of silver, and yet she purchases more American silver than all other foreign countries combined. The United States will awaken to the fact one of these days, that she has been sadly duped on the silver question.

A bountiful Thanksgiving dinner was given the poor children under the auspices of the Salvation Army. This is practical christianity, and following the example of Him who said, "In as much as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto me."

That President Cleveland is unpopular is not surprising. When his own people were out of employment, without money and depending upon soup houses for subsistence, he was looking after the interests of a dusky damsel of the Pacific, and carrying out his declaration that the people must be taught a lesson.

An itinerant correspondent for the Republic is making a vain effort to belittle C. N. Clark, who beat Mr. Hatch for Congress. The correspondent's silly twaddle will amount to nothing. If the President will freely consult Mr. Clark on National questions and take his advice, he will avoid many of the egregious errors of which he has been guilty in the past eighteen months.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28, '94.

Although Senator Cameron, of Pa., does not carry his dislike of the newspaper man in search of an interview to the extent of contemptuously referring to him as one of "them d— literary fellows" as his distinguished father once did, he dislikes being interviewed for publication so much that he very rarely meets such a request favorably. This fact is well known to the fakers who have been writing so much tomfoolery about the political partnership formed between Senators Jones, of Nevada, and Cameron, to promote the organization of a new party with only two principles—the free coinage of silver and protection—which is to nominate Senator Cameron for the Presidency in 1896. The builders of the story, or series of stories, couched upon Senator Cameron's publicly expressed silver opinions, his friendship with Senator Jones, and every man's willingness to become President, to give an air of probability to their stories, and, judging from letters received in Washington from all sections, they did not count in vain. These stories were first started just after Senator Jones announced that he had become a populist, and soon died out. Within the last two or three days they have been given a fresh start with many additional details. As fairy stories they do credit to the imagination of their authors, but as political information they are simply rot of the worst sort. It can be stated upon the personal authority of Senator Cameron that he has never at any time even considered withdrawing from the Republican party; that he knows of no possible combination of circumstances that would induce him to do so; that he does not expect to be nominated for President by a silver party, and would not accept such a nomination were it tendered to him; although he favors a freer use of silver as money.

and hopes to see the Republican party take steps toward that end in the near future.

Representative Sayers, of Texas, chairman of the House committee on appropriations and one of the ablest democrats in that body, does not hesitate to say that nothing but Republican support saved him and one other Texas Democrat—Representative Lee, of Calhoun—from being defeated by the populists. He also says of Representative-elect Noonan, who was elected by the Republicans in the eleventh Texas District: "He was a union man throughout the war, and since then has been regularly elected judge in a democratic district against all opposition. He is about sixty years old, popular and capable. That he will like Congress, I am not sure. If the Republicans had nominated him of his stamp in all the Texas Districts, and made a straight fight on Republican lines, I believe they would have elected four or five Congressmen."

Moneyed Democrats are showing a very decided disposition to sit down hard upon Senator Faulkner of West Virginia, instead of subscribing money to aid his new rainbow scheme, of utilizing the machinery of the Democratic Congressional campaign committee to distribute literature intended to educate the Democratic masses up to a proper financial level. It will doubtless be remembered that Senator Faulkner is chairman of that committee. One man who gave the Congressional committee a check with four figures was approached by Senator Faulkner and asked to subscribe to the new scheme, and he is reported to have said: "Look here Faulkner, if that committee really has any machinery, send it to the nearest junk shop as soon as you can, for it is worthless for any useful purpose. And as for the Democratic masses, I have my doubts about their existence. I have no more money to throw down rat holes."

It is generally understood that Mr. Cleveland is now dividing his attention between a painful attack of the gout in his foot and the preparation of his annual message to Congress, but a Democrat who ought to know said to-day: "The idea that Mr. Cleveland is engaged in writing his message with his own hands is an erroneous one. I happen to know that he isn't writing his message at all. He has a daily talk with Dan Lamont during which he goes over what he desires to say upon a certain subject, leaving the writing and literary shaping of it entirely to Lamont who makes full notes and at the next interview carries what he has in the meantime written out to Mr. Cleveland and leaves it with him for revision. That is the way Mr. Cleveland is writing his message."

By the way, speaking of the message, it is not certain that it will contain any detailed recommendations as to a new financial system, notwithstanding Mr. Cleveland's recent intimation that it would. The reason is that great pressure is being brought to have the financial part of the message limited to a recommendation that Congress authorize the President to appoint a non-partisan monetary commission to make a full investigation and report what financial legislation ought to be enacted. Two members of the Cabinet—Olney and Morton—are committed to the commission idea and others are said to be favorably inclined towards it, but Mr. Cleveland has heretofore attached no weight to Cabinet or any other opinions, except when they agreed with his own.

You Should Get It.

Should get what? Why, The Rev. I. R. Hicks splendid Almanac for 1895. He has kindly sent to this office a copy of the same, and we speak advisedly in saying that it is a rare publication—the very latest and best of all that has emanated from the pen and brain and heart of this well known friend to the public. The history of this man's work—now an open book to all America—and a casual glance at his Almanac for 1895, convinced us that this vitally useful and instructive book ought to find its way into every shop, store, office and home in the land. The price of the book—only 25 cents—could not to our knowledge be invested for any one thing more profitable. It contains 81 pages, printed on fine book paper, with elegant covers in colors. It is for sale by all newsdealers. This fine Almanac is given as a premium to every yearly subscriber to the Rev. I. R. Hicks' well-known and deservedly popular paper, Word and Works. This unique journal is a peerless educator of the masses, and is fast becoming a household guardian and necessity in the homes of America. Those who want to keep up with all the advanced thought of the age in science, religion and all social, commercial, intellectual and domestic subjects, should subscribe for Word and Works. Subscription only $1.00 a year. You can send for both direct to Word and Work Publishing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

The "Standard" Delineator. The Standard Fashion Co., is especially to be congratulated upon its new venture, "The Standard Delineator," the Christmas number of which is issued simultaneously with that of the Ladies' Standard Magazine. Special features of this brightest and most entertaining of monthly publications are the exquisite colored fashion plates, one being representative of the newest Standard designs in costumes and the other of the latest Paris millinery. Milliners everywhere will appreciate the latter, as well as the cleverly written articles with which it is accompanied. Nothing that can possibly be of interest in the home has been omitted from this magazine. Among the many subjects entertainingly treated being Artistic Interiors, Cookery, and Fancy Work, besides the usual concomitants of a high-class Fashion Magazine. We predict a great future for the "Standard" Delineator, the price of which is ten cents a copy, or one dollar a year.

NEW DISCOVERY

BY

DR. A. T. NOE.

NEURO OSTEOPATHY

We mean by this term a science of bones and the electric forces of man, "the nervous system."

Neuro meaning nerve—therefore better enabled to treat all forms of diseases originating from the effect of some nerve force. Osteopathy, the true name for Osteopathy, meaning a science of treating disease originating from dislocated bones.

By the new science, in treating diseases, we are better enabled to reach all parts of man through the nervous system, like Edison with the telegraphic system can reach all parts of the earth by simply pressing on a button or tapping upon a key, and the force being sent out over the positive line, the negative force brings back the answer. If there are any obstructions, it tells him where it is and if he is familiar with all the parts he knows where and how to proceed to remove the cause.

We live in a day and age in which all things around us are of a progressive nature. Everything must move on. You can not side track and say you have all there is in science, that has any scientific principles about it. To move one must be on the main line with head light directed to the things that are higher and brighter. There is yet room higher. Who will reach the top round in this scientific research? We must be climbing on or we will be trampled under foot. Osteopathy in itself has done some wonderful things in relieving suffering humanity, yet alone has fallen short in many things. I, realizing this fact and having reviewed Osteopathy and with it the electrical forces of man in all these departments, have made a more thorough investigation of the mechanism of man, and understand the relation of the nerve forces to the different organs, glands, muscles, circulation, and with this development and adding the law of the similars: "Like cures like" to those that are needing it, makes the cure for chronic diseases more uniform than any other mode of treatment. It is said by some that there is a bone dislocated for every disease.

The science of Neuro Osteopathy classifies the different diseases gives us the etiology and pathology of every case and tells us what to do and where to operate. What is Man without a thorough knowledge of self? Who is it that attains all this? Man is of divine origin, the most wonderful structure of the universe. To comprehend such architecture has to become almost divine.

To attain the new science one has to know anatomy perfectly. To do this he has to dissect under a skilled demonstrator. In this way you understand every part. To know how to put a watch together you have first to take it apart. Man is just beginning to know some of the divine laws governing him. One starts the ball to roll and another takes it up and gives it a push, and so it is all the way through life with everything.

The composition of man in different diseases is all important to know, and to meet that condition that is abnormal in composition is done by the only universal law: "Likes cures like."

I have been testing this mode of treatment now over eight months and with success. By the request of my patrons and friends who have been treated by me, I come out and tell you of it in this way, that others seeing and knowing of my good works, may be constrained to do likewise.

My rooms are open to all for Neuro, Osteopathy and Homeopathic treatment, located on the south side of the square. Those that are not able to come to the office will be treated at their boarding houses.

I treat all forms of chronic diseases successfully. I have some experienced operators under me and I give every case my personal observation, and see that each patient gets the worth of his money or it is refunded.

Yours Respectfully,

A. T. NOE.

Order of Publication in Vacation.

In the circuit court of Adair county, Missouri, January term, 1895.

The state of Missouri, at the relation and to the use of S. A. D. Murphy, collector of the revenue for the city of Kirkville, state of Missouri, against William Jones, James Jones, Thomas E. Sublette, Henry Bestman and W. H. Clark, defendants, Petition for taxes.

Now on this 21st day of November, 1894, comes the above named plaintiff, by his attorney, J. C. Storm, before the clerk of the circuit court of the county of Adair and state of Missouri, and files his petition in the above entitled cause alleging among other things that the defendant James Jones is a non-resident of the state of Missouri, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him and prays that he be summoned by publication. Wherefore it is ordered by said clerk in vacation that publication be made, notifying said defendant that an action has been commenced against him by the plaintiff, by the above named plaintiff, by his attorney, J. C. Storm, before the clerk of the circuit court of the county of Adair and state of Missouri, the object and general nature of which is to obtain a judgment against said defendants for the sum of ten and 60-100 dollars, aggregate amount of taxes for the years 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, and levied upon and against the real estate hereinafter described, owned by the defendants. Said taxes due and delinquent on said land, with interest thereon as provided by law together with commission, attorney's fees and costs of said proceedings. Also to have said judgment declared a lien in favor of the city of Kirkville upon the following described lands, lying and being situate in the county of Adair and state of Missouri, to-wit:

Lots one and two, 1 and 2, in block twenty two, 22, in the north east addition to Kirkville, Adair county, Mo.

And also to enforce said lien and to obtain a decree for the sale of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment, interest, commission, fees and costs. And unless you, James Jones defendant be and appear at the next regular term of the circuit court of Adair county, Missouri, to be begun and held at the court house in Kirkville, on the first Monday in January, 1895, and answer or plead to said petition on or before the sixth day of said term of court (should the term so long continue, and if not, then before the end of the term), the same will be taken as confessed, and judgment rendered as asked for in plaintiff's petition. It is further ordered that a copy of this order be published in the Graphic, a weekly newspaper published in said Adair county, for four weeks successively, the last insertion to be at least 15 days before the commencement of the next term of this court. A true copy. Attest, By W. J. Ashlock, D. C. (SEAL.)

appreciate the award to them of highest honors at the Exposition. The significance of the compliment, the splendid character of the indorsement, cannot be underrated. It stamps Dr. Price's as without a peer among the baking powders. The jury of awards, an exceptionally intelligent body, was headed by the Chief Chemist of the United States Department of Agriculture. They found Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder strongest in leavening power, perfect in purity, and of uniform excellence.
